CAMPBELL COUNCILMEN starting in January will receive salaries of $150 per month, as a result of a recent ordinance that was adopted.

There have been a number of raised eyebrows by some citizens over this action, mostly by people who are unaware of the time and effort most councilmen must put into their jobs.

Unfortunately many people are unfamiliar with the duties of the councilmen. These persons sort of assume that meeting twice a month for a couple of hours each time is the extent of a councilman's activities as far as the city is concerned.

OBVIOUSLY there is much more to administering the City of Campbell today than just attendance at council meetings and even other meetings during the month.

There is a great deal of home-work that must be done by each councilman if he is to do the job properly. A councilman dedicated to acting for the welfare of the entire community must devote many hours to just becoming familiar with the intricacies of present and future problems affecting the city.

We recognize that much of the administrative work in our city is now done by an efficient staff, headed by one of the most capable city managers, Bob Stephens, in the area.

Yet a city staff must have direction and a council must be informed in order to give the proper direction. Obviously that takes time. Unless, of course, a councilman does not have the responsibility of his city at heart.

Paying $150 per month to dedicated councilmen will only in a small part compensate them for the time they put in on city business.

You will admit, we think, that we have a considerable stake in this community, as

College board, council to discuss future status of Campbell campus

Members of Campbell's City Council and the governing board of West Valley College will hold a joint meeting next Monday night, Dec. 19, in an effort to determine whether there is any "future" for Campbell as far as the college is concerned.

In a previous joint meeting prior to the last unsuccessful bond issue, councilmen indicated that they favored a permanent college campus in Campbell, large or small. But, they also would be less than enthusiastic over any more temporary additions, such as "relocatable classrooms", on the local site.

The councilmen are seeking a firm commitment from the board as to the future status of the Campbell site.

And the board is seeking ways to accommodate its students, temporarily or permanently, without any bond money.

BOND FAILURE

Failure of three junior college district bond issues to win approval at the polls during the past three years has placed the college governing board in a difficult position as far as housing the ever-increasing enrollment.

The college opened for business in September, 1964, in the old Campbell Grammar School plant at Winchester and Campbell as a "temporary" expedient.

It was planned to occupy this temporary campus until funds from a bond issue were available to build a permanent campus.

Now three bond failures later, the "temporary" status of the Campbell site has become a moot issue, especially among Campbell city officials.

Compounding the seriousness of the situation, as far as the city is concerned, is the problem of "relocatable classrooms" which the college has found necessary to place on the original school site, as well as on the two parking lots (on Latimer and Rincon). It is estimated that a total of 38 such buildings are needed.

The increased enrollment necessitated the first "relocatables". And now because one of the main school buildings has been declared unsafe under the Field Act specifications, more movable classrooms are needed to accommodate displaced students from that

City, C.ofC. officials study three possible plans today

Members of the City Council and staff and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and the downtown redevelopment committee will meet today to review the three proposals that have been drafted for the improvement of downtown Campbell Ave.

According to City Manager Bob Stephens the meeting today could provide the City Council with the needed direction and there is the possibility that some official action could be taken on Dec. 27.

The three proposals are graphically illustrated in this issue.

Proposition No. 3, classified as the "most dramatic", and the most costly is depicted on this page.

The two other plans appear on page 10 of this issue.

The highlight of Proposition No. 3 is a proposed new street north of Campbell Ave.

Proposition No. 1, the least expensive, utilizes the rights-of-way that are now available. That means, in effect that the improved street would vary in width, two lanes in some places and four in others.

Proposition No. 2, calls for the widening of the street to the present plan line to allow for four lanes.

Stephens said that when the council decides which plan to follow, work could start on the street next year by diverting gas tax money from other street improvement projects that have been planned.

San Tomas name-change goes before school board

A long-standing policy of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District could be modified this Thursday afternoon, if the trustees of the district act favorably on the request to change the name of San Tomas School to the "Jack C. Fischer School".

Action on the renaming of the school is on the agenda for the board meeting which is called for 4:20 p.m. in the district administration office on Third St., Campbell.

The original suggestion that the San Tomas School name be changed to "Jack C. Fischer School" was made on an informal basis to the board in October, shortly after the death of Jack Fischer who had been principal of San Tomas School for 14 years.

Board members deferred action on the issue then until their December meeting.

Since the first presentation to the board in October, petitions have been circulated throughout the San Tomas area requesting the name change.

According to Mrs. Ray Vierra, of 1497 Hacienda, chairman of the "change of name

Death takes civic leader

Funeral services held Saturday

Flags at Campbell's city hall were flown at half-mast Saturday in tribute to James Arnill (Jim) Tomlinson, who set an unprecedented record of service on the Planning Commission.

His record can never be equalled, as he was a member of the first Planning Commission of this city and he served continuously until his untimely death last Wednesday.

Tomlinson, 51, was appointed to the first commission in December, 1952 and was a member for 14 years. He had attended the commission meeting on Monday, Dec. 5, two days before his death. He served two terms as chairman of the commission and throughout the 14 years he was rated as one of the outstanding leaders in the area in the planning field.

Tomlinson, an executive of Owens-Corning Fiberglas, died of a cerebral hemorrhage

Planners start scholarship fund

Spear-headed by members of the Campbell Planning Commission, a "Jim Tomlinson Memorial Scholarship Fund" was established this week in memory of their fellow-commissioner, Jim Tomlinson, who died last Wednesday.

Tomlinson, who was appointed to the original Planning Commission of the city which was established in December, 1952, served continuously as a member until his death, 14 years of dedicated community service.

A conscientious member, who became a self-made expert in many planning areas,

Editorial

The Tomlinson legacy

To us he used to refer to himself as a "maverick" as he sat on the Campbell Planning Commission acting on the many matters that would affect the future of his city.

We suppose that the self-description of his was true of Jim Tomlinson, up to a point.

The dictionary defines "maverick" as one "who takes an independent stand apart from his associates"...a dissenter."

And Jim very definitely would "dissent" and take an "independent stand", if he felt he was right.

And over a period of 14 years on the Campbell Planning Commission, it is surprising how many times Jim's "dissent" turned out to be right.

This independent stand of Jim Tomlinson was probably the main trait we admired about the man whom we knew so well because of his years of service to our community.

But there were many other characteristics about the guy which we respected.

We liked his sincerity of purpose and we enjoyed his drollness and his wit.

Jim Tomlinson died last Wednesday.

Our community suffered a loss from which it may never recover, for Jim had set a record of dedicated public service to this city that will probably never be equalled again.

He was appointed to the first Planning Commission ever organized in this city on Dec. 29, 1952, six months after Campbell was incorporated.

He served continuously on that body from that day forward. He handled the gavel as chairman for two terms during the most trying periods in this city's growth.

To give you some idea of his dedication, Jim had attended the Planning Commission on Monday night, Dec. 5, and participated actively and enthusiastically in the commission's actions, although he was suffering from a severe cold at the time.

And as he had done for all those 14 years he had served so faithfully, he was looking ahead. Jim was never a one to sit back and recall the past or "stand on his record".

At that last meeting of the Planning Commission, Jim introduced a model ordinance for his fellow commissioners study which presented a new concept in regulating noise factors. That was something that over the years Tomlinson had researched to such an extent that he had become virtually an expert in that field, for Jim, as involved as he was in a responsible executive position with Owens-Corning Fiberglass, delighted in doing his "home-work" as a planning commissioner.

His fellow commissioners listened with respect when Jim predicted that the commission in the near future would have to concern itself with definite regulations concerning noise.

They realized that their "elder statesman", just as preceding commissioners had also recognized in 14 years, was sound in his thinking.

Very fittingly, the Planning Commission has initiated the "Jim Tomlinson Memorial Scholarship Fund" which will be awarded to deserving students in planning at Cal's graduate school.

This will be a worthy memorial in recognition of the unselfish public service of a citizen of our community, as well as for the unprecedented record Jim Tomlinson set as a Campbell planning commissioner.

We urge individuals, firms and organizations to contribute to the fund as evidence of their appreciation of the efforts of one man to build a better community.

We know we could have made this editorial more personal, for we knew Jim well. But Jim's widow, Genevieve, and two sons, already know they have our sincere and heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement.

But the town, also, has suffered a loss and that is what we wanted to emphasize in this editorial.

We sincerely hope that the scholarship fund grows and the recipients will learn something of the background of the man for whom it is named and his record to his city.

But, in addition to the memorial scholarship, there is another legacy left by Jim Tomlinson to this community.

This is reflected in the minutes of the Planning Commission meetings spanning a 14-year period during this city's most trying era, 1952-1966.

As long as the records of the city remain intact, Jim's legacy will also remain.

And it's a record that anyone could stand on with pride.

much, probably, as any single individual within the city limits.

-0-

We consider $150 per councilman per month a paltry figure in comparison to the overall responsiblity a dedicated councilman must have.

No price tag can be put on that factor and we shouldn't try.

But we do think it is silly to question whether the citizens are getting $150 per month of value out of their councilmen.

You MUST be kidding.

If we are not, we had better do some intense soul-searching.

AN UNSIGNED LETTER to us this week commended City Councilman Ed Rogers for casting the lone negative vote when the ordinance was adopted authorizing the $150 per month councilman salary.

The writer of the letter (we assume it must have been a LOL (little old lady) who wrote it indicated she was "very proud to have a city councilman who is willing to serve without pay".

But that really is not exactly the way it was, according to the record.

True, Ed Rogers voted "no" on the adoption of the ordinance.

BUT ED was not voting against the principle involved. He made that clear. He recognized (after all he has served on the council almost seven years) what was necessary in time and effort for a dedicated councilman.

ROGERS QUESTIONED the legal end of the situation.

He was not satisfied with the ruling of the attorney general, city attorney and the legal counsel for the League of California Cities who had specified that the ordinance satisfied all legal requirements.

We think this point should be emphasized.

Knowing Ed, as we do, we are sure that he would not want people to misinterpret the meaning of his negative vote.

'FRINGE BENEFITS' mean a great deal today in employer-employee relations.

Along with "take-home-pay" we have all learned to apply various equations to the budget dollar in this inflationary world in which we live.

It could very well be that this $150 allowance per month per councilman might change a perspective here and there.

Unknowingly certain "junkets" in the past by all the councilmen have sort of developed into a "fringe benefit" atmosphere.

But under the new financial arrangement, it might be wise to take a long, hard look at the benefits derived from the excursions in relation to the value received.

IT IS NEVER an easy task to report the passing an outstanding citizen.

And, if the individual happens to be one's personal friend, it becomes that much more difficult.

For the 11 years that we have been exposed to the operation of the city government of Campbell, Jim Tomlinson played a prominent part in this city's administration.

For all those years (plus three years prior to our arrival), Jim was a member of Campbell's Planning Commission.

How well we recall Jim's valiant efforts in the battle for establishing the Controlled Manufacturing zoning in Campbell. There were many times in those early days when "C-M" became a "bad word" in many circles and those favoring that particular zoning were subjected to abuse and criticism.

TO JIM'S everlasting credit, he never wavered in his belief that such a zoning was necessary, if his community was to progress and lift itself from the mire of being known as a "dirty little town" or an overgrown "cannery village".

Jim Tomlinson died last Wednesday at the age of 51, long before his time.

Yet some years before his untimely death, Jim saw his belief in "C-M" zoning vindicated. He saw those who had been bitterly opposed to "C-M" concede that he had been right in so strongly favoring that zoning.

There are many other illustrations we could cite to show Jim's characteristics that made him an outstanding civic leader, a forthright, sincere citizen and a guy we were proud to call a friend and a person who would always fight for what he believed was right, no matter what the odds.

But we feel that Jim, looking down on us now, would want to be remembered in this community for the battle-scars he so proudly carried because of his part in the "CM" battle, which was just one phase in the growing-up era of Campbell.

AS WE SAID, there are other things we could tell you about our friend, Jim, to show you what a loss this community has sufferred by his death.

How many of us will do as well?

Jack Fischer, a native of San Francisco, was a veteran of World War II and a graduate of San Francisco State. He came to Campbell in 1952 and became principal of San Tomas School that year.

A professional and talented musician, as well as an educator, Fischer was also active in community affairs. He was a long-time member of the Campbell Kiwanis Club and also served as chairman of the Old Settlers Day celebration.

Fischer became ill last summer and was not able to take up his duties as principal when school started in the fall. An interim principal was appointed in his place. Fischer died less than two weeks after school had taken up.

He is survived by his wife, Sara, and son, Jack E. Fischer, who still reside at the family residence at 950 Almarida Ave., Campbell.

There are 19 elementary schools in the Campbell Union School District and it has been the policy of the district to name the schools after the streets on which they are located or the general area.

If the board agrees to the name change, it will be the only school in the entire district that will have been named after an individual.

Eastern Star to have party

Campbell Chapter No. 553, Order of the Eastern Star, meets Friday, Dec. 16 at the Campbell Grange Hall at 8 p.m. There will be a Christmas party with an exchange of gifts. Mrs. Laura Duberg is chairman for the evening.

CANDY CANE TREE--These youngsters stopped by for a candy cane from the "candy cane tree" at the home of Mrs. Fran Riggar, 151 Victor Ave. For the past five years, Mrs. Riggar has decorated a tree in her front yard with candy canes for children on her street. This year she had help with the project from the journalism department of San Jose City College. These youngsters, unidentified, were passing by on their way home from school.

Candy cane tree

Once again there will be a candy cane tree growing in the yard of Mrs. Fran Riggar, 151 Victor Ave., thanks to the gremlins at San Jose City College Journalism Department, who have helped with the project.

For the last five years, Fran Riggar has put a candy cane tree in her front yard, for all the children on her street. Some years it meant getting up at 5 a.m. to hang the 100 to 150 canes on the tree, and this goes on for at least two weeks.

Her only reward for all this effort has been the pleasure of seeing the enchantment on each smiling face. An estimated 5000 candy canes have been used in the past five years.

In the past, the tree was accomplished with the help of her son-in-law, Alfred Hurt, but Hurt is now off to Viet Nam, so San Jose City College journalists came to the rescue. After the tree is decorated, Mrs. Riggar invites everyone to come and see it in all its glory.

College shows film classic on Thursday night

Second in a series of film classics presented by the Associated Student Body of West Valley College is scheduled for Thursday, Dec. 15 at 8 p.m. in the college auditorium at the 51 E. Campbell Ave. campus.

The movie is "The Young and the Damned" (Los Olvidados), made in Mexico and directed by Luis Bunuel in 1951.

The film won the grand prize for direction in the Cannes International Film Festival, and it is described as "a savage drama of juvenile delinquency filmed with stunning realism in the outskirts of Mexico City, where adolescent gangs fight each other out of hate, fear, lawlessness and hunger.

The movie is "a tight, penetrating treatment of desperate, poverty-haunted youth" with "nothing softened, no cruel outcome avoided."

Admission is free to student-body cardholders, and is 75 cents to the general public.

Other movies scheduled in the film classics series include:

"The Knife in the Water", Polish, Jan. 13, 1967.

"Grand Hotel," U.S. (Starring Greta Garbo), Feb. 10, 1967.

"Sawdust and Tinsel," Swedish, written and directed by Ingmar Bergman, March 3, 1967.

"The Detective" Great Britain, April 7, 1967.

"And Quiet Flows the Don," Russian, May 19, 1967.

Church to have traditional Yule service

The traditional Christmas service of Nine Lessons and Carols will be offered by St. Lawrence Episcopal church, Campbell at the 10 a.m. service on Sunday, Dec. 18.

The service consists of nine readings interspersed with carols, opening with an original bidding prayer and closing with a blessing.

The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Robert Hansen, recently ordained Deacon and one of the clergy staff of St. Lawrence.

Christmas balls at Campbell , Westmont

Camden Chatter

by JAN LOWDEN

SANTA APPEARED:

Students of Camden High attended the annual Christmas Dance, "La Veille de Noel", held last Friday night. The "4th Street Exit" entertained Camden students and their guests in the school cafeteria.

Students of the Social Affairs Commission decorated for the affair under the direction of this year's commissioner, Linda Schmadeke, and supervised by Mrs. Jackie Jackman.

Many surprises were in store for those attending. Good Old Saint Nick showed up to top off the evening. The time was 8 to 11 p.m. and dress was semi-formal.

RACES BEING HELD:

What's this? The Camden campus has been taken over for slot car racing? No, the cars you may have seen in the bus area at Camden are just projects for Mr. Claus' metal shop classes.

The race track consists of 150 feet of fish line, by which the cars are guided. Last week Ed Cox won the prize for being top eliminator, and Dave Anderson took the trophy for the best-styled car.

KISSING TWIG BEING SOLD:

Along with the season of Christmas comes the time for mistletoe. Last year Camden Sophomores sold the branch to earn extra money for future activities. Again this year the twig is being sold.

The sale started Dec. 7 and is lasting until vacation. The Sophomores will be selling the mistletoe for 25¢ a package to both students and the community.

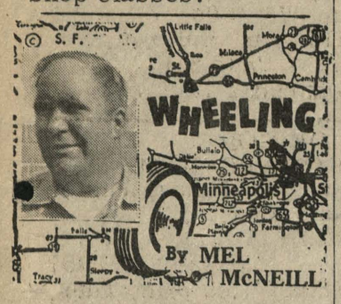
FOOTBALL ROUNDUP: by Curt Daniels

We would like to report that the Cougars took the varsity championship, but we didn't. In fact, Camden finished last with an 0-7 league record.

This was the worst season in Camden's history and a big setback for the new football coach, Bob Gatiss. The Cougars were hampered all year by injuries as they lost 11 players due to injuries.

At the start of the year it appeared that the Cougars would be in contention for the title after the two pre-league victories over Lynnbrook 38-0 and a tough Newark team 13-6, but they suffered their first setback at the hands of underdog Los Gatos 19-7. The following week the Cougars were dumped by Saratoga 28-12. The Cougars continued their slide with losses to Westmont 26-13 and Campbell 28-13. But far from out the Cougars fought back but lost three tough ones.

One to Blackford 13-7 with 17 seconds left to play. Another to Leigh 26-13, in which the Cougars scored the most points scored upon Leigh's defense all season. Thanksgiving Day Camden lost to Del Mar 12-6 after they apparently tied it up, but the touchdown was called out of bounds.



For quite a while, Ford was the only auto manufacturer of the low-priced Big Three who made an eight-cylinder car. But in 1955 Chevrolet and Plymouth also got into the V-8 business. Today however, a surprisingly large percentage of people are no longer going for the greater power that is offered in the eight; instead they're sticking to the sixes. Even Ford is selling a great number of sixes. The reason for the consumers, demand for the six-cylinder car? It's the old, old answer. Money! It's true that the six will give plenty of pick-up power and speed, but the overriding reason is that the smaller six takes less gas. And, for some folks whose gas bill is the third largest item on the family budget, that's mighty good reason . . .

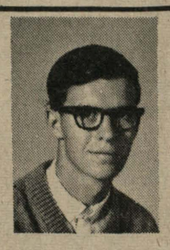
Warrior World



by RUSS LONG

"Twas the night before Christmas," is the theme of this year's annual Christmas program to be held tonight at 8 p.m. in the Westmont cafetorium.

Soloists for the evening are Julie Gable, senior; Bob Mommsen, freshman; Jo Lynn Bailey, junior; Steve Murphy, junior; and foreign exchange student Ingo Fledler, senior.

Dancing to unusual lighting and decor, a "Mod" Christmas will be held Friday night from 8 to 11 p.m. in the cafetorium. Music for the dance will be provided by the Argot, who, according to Mr. Archie Dwyer, Director of Student Activities," ...have promised to play one out of every three slow."

All this week, the staff of Westmont's yearbook, the Poniard, have been selling candy wrapped in mistletoe. Due to the fact that the yearbook is in debt, some form of money-raising had to be initiated. Since it's the Christmas season, what's more natural than mistletoe and candy canes?

Yesterday the sophomore class held a "Goofy Socks" hop after School. Prizes were awarded to the person who won the "Goofy Socks" contest.

Four seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, and a freshman represented Westmont last Saturday at Santa Clara University's Math Contest. These students are Doug Anderson, Jerry Bedwell, Mark Jansen, and Kerry O'Neal, seniors; Doug Hoffman, Tom Price, and Dan Verinsky, juniors; Judy Aronson and Ron Gutman, sophomores, and Doug Shoaf, representing the freshman class.

"MACBETH"

English literature students attended a special showing of the movie "Macbeth" at the Fox Theatre Wednesday Dec. 7. The film, starring Judith Anderson and Maurice Evans, was seen as part of the lit classes' study of Shakespeare.

Seniors chose their "Senior Bests" last week. These are the students that fellow seniors feel satisfy each "Best" category. The "Bests" will have their pictures taken and put in the yearbook for all to remember.

Winners of the various categories were: BEST ARTIST: Chuck Eades and Kathy West; BEST DRESSED: Jan English and Scott Porter; MOST FRIENDLY: Bob Swisher and Shannon Ceccarelli; MOST ATHLETIC: Cheryl Mansfield and Roy Grillo; MOST MUSICALLY TALENTED: Bob Gunter and Julie Gable; MOST SHY: Gerry Dove and Phil Werness; MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED: John Page and Gretchen Stolle, and MOST TALKATIVE: Barbara Gilford and Dick Walker.

Sparked on by the 20-plus point effort of Roy Grillo and Bruce Anderson, the Warrior cagers downed Mitty 82-66 in a non-league contest played Friday night. Upcoming for the Warrior team is tournament play over Christmas vacation. League play starts Jan. 6 with a game against Del Mar.

Schools close for holidays

Christmas vacation begins next week for students in the Campbell and Moreland Elementary School Districts as well as in the Campbell High School District. All schools will be closed beginning Monday, Dec. 19 until Tuesday, Jan. 3.

St. Lucy's Grammer School will have vacation beginning Wednesday, Dec. 21 until Jan. 3.

Campbell Crier

by DAVE TURNER

Two big social events on the Campbell campus this week will serve the dual purpose of kicking off the holiday season and ending the 1966 school year.

The Christmas spirit will move into the Campbell auditorium at 8 p.m. tonight, Dec. 14, with the annual Christmas Program. Featured will be a variety of music and short skits in the traditional yule-time theme. Larry McCommas, Campbell high music director, has recently returned from entertaining troops in Europe and can be expected to lend his wonderful talents to the success of the program.

The other social gathering of great importance is the 1966 Christmas Dance, to be held in the cafeteria Friday, Dec. 16, from 8 to 11 p.m. Attending couples will find a vast array of decorations and refreshments creating a cheerful holiday atmosphere and lively music by Campbell's own stage band, The Saints.

Winless after two attempts by the Soph-Frosh and three by the Varsity, Campbell's basketball teams again went in search of victory last night at Sunnyvale. Scores were not available at press time, but will be given later. The Soph-Frosh play next at Fremont on Thursday, Dec. 15, and then in the Los Altos Tournament on Dec. 19, 20, 21, and hopefully the 22. The Varsity, meantime will play in the Live Oak Tournament Dec. 15-17. They will also meet Mountain View on their own home court on Tuesday, Dec. 20, at 2 p.m.

I think its worth a casual thought to note that while the Buc Varsity was the lowest scoring team in the Lick Tournament in terms of total points, they were the only team to have more total points than rooters.

WRESTLING

The varsity wrestlers pulled a few surprises in their match against Logan last Friday and whipped the Colts 40 to 14. With the JV squad also scoring a decisive victory, the team appears to be well prepared for its first league match at Camden at 3:30 p.m. Friday, Dec. 16. Wrestling fans will also be happy to know that Campbell will host a Novice Wrestling Tournament Saturday morning, Dec. 17. I don't know the exact time of the first match, but it will probably begin around 9 a.m.

1 YEAR AGO

Campbell Union High School District has been named among the 30 "salary leaders" of the 200 school districts in the San Francisco Bay area by the California Teachers Association, it was reported this week.

Bids will be opened on Jan. 5 in Sacramento for the adding of a southbound lane on Highway 17 between Hamilton Ave. in Campbell and Interstate 280, the State Division of Highways reported this week.

Dorothy Trevethan, city clerk, administered the oath of office to Homer Hyde this week. Hyde, a long-time member of the Planning Commission, was appointed to the City Council to the vacancy created by the resignation of Bob McElroy, who has moved out of the city.

5 YEARS AGO

Trees in the parkways on Christopher Ave., Bucknall Rd. and other streets in that same tract are damaging sidewalks and curbs and should be removed and replaced with more desirable ones. That is what R.L. Bennington, a spokesman for a group of residents in the tract, told the City Council on Monday night. The Council promised the residents that it would investigate the tree problem and make a recommendation as to what should be done. In the meantime before any tree is removed a permit must be obtained from the city.

Students walking to Del Mar High along the San Jose-Los Gatos Rd. from Ridgeley Dr. past the Hamilton Plaza Shopping Center are to get a temporary walkway, City Manager Milton S. Hetzel told the Council on Monday.

The City Council by resolution on Monday night outlined some of the conditions under which building permits for fallout shelters would be issued by the City of Campbell. Basically the plans must follow the city's building code and any plans that the federal or state government may adopt at a later time.

10 YEARS AGO

Where the Campbell post office is going to light when its present lease expires is affecting the current face-lift operation of the downtown business section to a certain extent. This was evident this week as "operation face-lift" continued to roll although a number of adjustments in some of the original plans were reported.

Chances are pretty good that one application for a use and zone variance permit that comes before the Planning Commission on Dec. 13 at a public hearing will gain approval without too much trouble. On that date, the City of Campbell is asking the City of Campbell's Planning Commission for approval to operate a city hall at 75 N. Central Ave.

The State Allocations Board gave its approval this week to the Campbell Union Elementary School District's bid for additional funds to the tune of $81,960 to buy the site for the proposed Parkway School, William C. Henley, district Superintendent announced yesterday.

15 YEARS AGO

Another new school for Campbell Union School District was definitely assured this week, Superintendent William C. Henley said he has received National Production Authority approval and allocation of critical material for Quito School, which will be located on the southeast corner of Quito and McCoy Ave.

County law enforcement officials, juvenile probation authorities, county recreation officials, and local schools all offered their support and cooperation to teenage hot-rodders gathered at the Campbell Congregational Church last night to discuss formation of a club.

Contributions are now being solicited for the $8000 goal set for the construction of a youth and recreation center for the Cambrian district. The move, sponsored by the Cambrian Men's Club, is being made in an effort to provide greater facilities for the use of youth and adult groups on their various meeting nights.

On Nov. 13 President Johnson vetoed a new crime code for the District of Columbia. In so doing he ignored a clear mandate from the people in the November election for constructive action to prevent the increase in major crimes.

All across the nation liberals who condoned riots, disorder, and civil disobedience went down to defeat. In New York City a referendum election overwhelmingly abolished a Police Review Board which had been established by Mayor John Lindsay under pressure from liberal groups.

Voters also gave evidence of resentment against recent Supreme Court Decisions which make law enforcement more difficult.

Serious crimes in the District of Columbia have increased 100 per cent in the past 10 years. This year only 26.3 per cent of these crimes were solved by the police whereas 10 years ago the record stood at 49.5 per cent. From 1960 to 1965 all crime in the United States rose 47 per cent and the percentage of convictions following arrest went down. There is little question that certain Supreme Court decisions contributed to this record.

In the famous Mallory case, a man was apprehended by the District of Columbia Police at 2 p.m. one day and 6 hours later confessed to the crime of rape. He repeated his confession later in the evening. Again at midnight, upon being confronted by his victim and identified, he confessed his guilt. He was found guilty and sentenced to prison but on June 24, 1957, the Supreme Court overturned Mallory's conviction because his confessions were made before he had been arraigned before a U.S. commissioner.

In another case, a man by the name of Killough, strangled his wife, buried her in a rubbish heap, and confessed 5 days later. This confession was held inadmissible by the court under the Mallory rule. Killough was arraigned but a second and third confession were also thrown out by the court as "fruits of the evil tree," namely, the first confession. Today Killough is walking the streets.

The new crime code vetoed by the President would have allowed police to question a suspect up to 6 hours before arraigning him, provided he was advised of his legal rights to refuse to answer and have a lawyer present. It would also have allowed police to detain a suspect up to 4 hours for questioning before deciding whether to make a formal arrest or to release him.

In my considerable contacts with the average American citizen I have found that he is impatient with civil disobedience and those who assume that if they disagree they have a right to disobey. The American people clearly showed on Nov. 8 that they feel it is time that the great majority of law abiding citizens are protected from the few who would take the law into their own hands. They want laws which will support rather than hinder the work of our police.

In my opinion President Johnson made a serious mistake and one which the new Congress will speedily correct.

Planners

Tomlinson served as chairman of the commission for two terms. Although feeling subpar, he attended the last meeting of the commission on Dec. 5, just two days before his death.

The scholarship that has been established will be awarded to a deserving graduate student in planning in the School of Environmental Design at the University of California.

Students seeking a masters degree in city planning will be eligible for the scholarship.

Members of the Planning Commission have already contributed to the fund on an individual basis and the money has been deposited in an account in the Campbell Ave. branch of Bank of America.

Individuals, service clubs and other organizations wishing to make contributions to the scholarship fund as a tribute to the unselfish service of Jim Tomlinson to his community should make their checks payable to the "Jim Tomlinson Memorial Scholarship Fund" in care of the Campbell Planning Commission at the city hall.

Planning commission members in sponsoring the fund emphasized the many contributions in the planning field that had been made by Tomlinson during the 14 years he served as a commissioner.

University officials have indicated that should the fund reach a high enough figure a fellowship in Tomlinson's name could be established in the graduate school.

New students at W V College get registration "check list"

All new students planning to register for classes at West Valley College for the spring semester, have been given a check list of "things to do" and deadlines to meet by Don R. Ziegler, dean of admissions and records at the college.

For example, Ziegler said, all registering students must take either the ACT test or the West Valley College placement test, and it is the student's responsibility to see that ACT test scores are reported to the Dean of Guidance and Counseling at West Valley College.

The West Valley College placement tests will be given in the college auditorium on the Campbell Ave. campus on the following dates:

January 7, 1967, Saturday, 8:15 a.m. or 12:45 p.m.

Jan. 14, 1967, Saturday, 8:15 a.m. or 12:45 p.m.

Jan. 19, 1967, Wednesday evening, 6:45 p.m.

April 15, 1967, Saturday, 8:15 a.m. or 12:45 p.m.

May 6, 1967, Saturday, 8:15 a.m. or 12:45 p.m.

In order to assure a seat for any test date, an admission testing card may be obtained prior to the test date, from the Dean of Guidance and Counseling.

Students must also file the WVC application for admission form, including an identification picture and a counseling appointment card. These forms are obtainable in the Student Personnel Center and in Room A-26.

Further, students must request that their transcripts be sent from their high school to the Dean of Admissions and Records, and college transcripts are likewise required for all students who have attended college.

The deadline for receipt of applications, reapplications, transcripts, test scores, petitions is Jan. 6 1967. Ziegler warned that due to overcrowded conditions, applications and transfers will not be accepted after the deadline date.

Next step is counseling and registration of new students, to be held from Jan. 16-27. Appointment cards will start going out in the mail on Jan. 3, on a priority basis, but no appointments will be scheduled until entrance requirements are met.

Extended or evening registration is also now under way, and will continue until January. Students who have been unsuccessful in securing day classes will have time to seek admission to extended day sections.

Ziegler said that applicants must present their social security card or an official document, such as an employer's statement of earnings, showing their social security number.

Funeral

three and a half hours after being rushed to the hospital.

He had been a resident of Campbell since 1948, and at the time of his death, was technical manager of the west coast division of Owens-Corning. He had been with the firm since 1936 and was a member of the staff that went to Santa Clara in 1948 to establish the plant there.

Tomlinson was a native of Newark, Ohio, and went to work with Owens-Corning in that city after getting out of school. He had attended Ohio State University and was also a graduate of Stanford University's executive program.

His first job with Owens-Corning was operating a furnace and later became quality supervisor in the Newark plant and subsequently assistant general control manager.

In 1946 he became staff assistant to the vice-president of the firm. He was made technical manager of the west coast division about five years ago.

He is survived by his wife, Genevieve, and two sons, Terry, 21, and Tucker, 16. The Tomlinsons had made their home at 270 Cherry Lane since 1948.

Funeral services were conducted in the Campbell Memorial Chapel at 9:45 a.m. Saturday with the Rev. Wayne Myers, of the Campbell Congregational Church of which Tomlinson had been a long-time member, officiating.

Fellow planning commissioners who had served with Tomlinson served as pall-bearers. Interment was in Oak Hill Cemetery.

SARATOGA SITE

In the meantime, the governing board of the college, thwarted by the last bond failure to build the first permanent campus in Santa Clara, has now turned to the 143-acre Saratoga campus site that has been acquired in piece-meal stages during the past three years.

Plans have been submitted to construct an engineering-technology building on the Saratoga site, the first permanent building of the college. The college is now in the process of going through the various Saratoga city channels that are necessary to obtain approval of this building.

But, at least 14 relocatable classrooms are needed also to accommodate the present bulging enrollment. College officials have indicated that they want them to go on the parking lots. The application for a use permit to allow these additional classrooms will probably hit the Campbell Planning Commission at the January meeting.

Campbell officials, both councilmen and planning commissioners, have indicated they will look with disfavor on additional movable classrooms on the overcrowded Campbell site. They point to the parking problems now existing on the residential streets, either because of the failure to use the parking lots or the lack of spaces in them.

Campbell city officials from the very beginning have welcomed the college to the city. But they want it as a permanent fixture and not on a temporary basis.

They maintain that, if the college must have additional "relocatables" to house the students, the 143-acre Saratoga site should be used for them rather than cluttering up the Campbell "temporary" site which was cramped from the start.

VIOLENCE IN THE CITY--
AN END OR A BEGINNING?
The rioting in Los Angeles in the late, hot summer of 1965 took six days to run its full grievious course. The crisis ended with thirty-four persons dead, and the wounded and hurt numbered 1032 more. Property damage was about $40,000,000. Arrested for one crime or another were 3952 persons. This is a report by the Governor's Commission on the riots, and their recommendations.

The laws of chance and their relation to today's politics, tonight's poker hand, tomorrow's weather and next week's satellite. By ignoring, or failing to grasp, the laws of chance, we hurt ourselves in many ways. City Council turns down county housing plan

By a 4-1 vote the City Council on Monday joined four other cities in the county (Los Altos, Monte Sereno, Saratoga, Santa Clara) in opposing the establishment of a county housing authority.

All 16 cities of the county had been asked by the county supervisors for recommendations as to whether the county should be the administrative agency for federal aid in providing adequate housing for the needy. Under recent legislation funds may be available for recent subsidies to owners of private property.

NEGATIVE VOTES

In casting their negative votes, the four councilmen expressed their concern over the housing problems of elderly people but indicated that they did not know enough about the request of the supervisors to take action on the matter.

Councilman Charles Rose, who opposed the majority's action, argued that the council had to face up to its responsiblity and that there was a definite need to help the elderly residents in this area.

Rose maintained that there were instances where landlords were "gouging" their tenants and that sooner or later the local governmental agencies had to step into the picture or the higher governmental levels would be forced to bring in public housing.

CORPORATION YARD

At the same meeting, the council approved the basic concept for the development of the city's corporation yard as presented by Bill Wren, public works director.

The proposed plans call for a cement block building facing the creek and freeway that would eventually include 11 "bays" for equipment and storage. Wren displayed an architect's rendering that showed that the cement block building would be "dressed up" with a specially designed roof.

All the councilmen enthusiastically endorsed the unique roof design which was es design which was estimated to cost an additional $10,000 because they maintained that the city had to take the lead in attractive buildings along the creek.

Wren estimated that the entire development would cost $114,500 but could be built in units.

City Manager Bol Stephens estimated that the financial position of the city would allow the construction of two bays next year and the council approved the recommendation.

The council also adopted two ordinances. One changed the zone at 185 Union Ave., from R-1 to R-3 to allow for the proposed expansion of the Fred Sahadi apartments located on the adjacent property and the other "pre-zoned" a 12-acre parcel off Union Ave., part R-3 and part M-1, that is now in the process of being annexed to the city. A modern mobile home park is planned for the parcel and the Planning Commission has already issued a use permit for such an operation and the council had specified that such a park is permissible on Union Ave.

Some of the councilmen, however, expressed concern that they would not be able to act on the use permit. They questioned whether it was wise to use the three-acre M-1 parcel for a mobile home park.

OTHER ACTIONS

The council also gave first reading to the annexation ordinance bringing the 12 acres into the city and also first reading on the ordinance that would prohibit residential uses in commercial zones.

Approval also was given the modifications for Campbell Lighting District which would bring into the district recently annexed areas and also change the method of tax assessment from land only to land and improvements.

Approval was also given the Latimer Ave. plan line for the extension of that street to Central. It now stops at First St.

Interested observers of the council's action were Mr. and Mrs. George Megown, 251 N. Central, owners of property that would be needed when the street was cut through. It was emphasized by the council that no timetable for the extension had been established but it was necessary to adopt a plan-line for the record.

The council reappointed Mrs. Betty Grizzle and John Billmeyer to new three-year terms on the Park and Recreation Commission and deferred action on two ordinances, one affecting the control of bees and the other the control of cats.

The council also affirmed its previous action which will allow a local improvement district to be formed for the improvement of Winchester Blvd. to the south city limits. Work could start in March, Wren estimated.

Letters to the Editor

RENAMING SCHOOL

Dear Mr. Editor,

We will be very proud to have a school in our area named after an outstanding citizen like Jack C. Fischer.

Many times we have public buildings named after national figures, but it isn't often we find one person in a local community that stimulates each and everyone of us to the point of naming a school after him.

In the years Jack lived in Campbell, he was an active and an interested citizen of many organizations volunteering his services in many community affairs.

But, Jack wasn't all work, nor enlisting his talents in just serious projects. We all remember his interest in producing the "San Tomas Follies". Through his good fellowship, he enthused his own P.T.A. members of the San Tomas area to showcase their talents in an effort to make money for a worthwhile project and at the same time, sharing a good evening of entertainment with the people of Campbell.

As parents, we strive to communicate the idea to our children, greatness we achieve in life is not how famous we become, but how well we are remembered in the hearts of people who knew us.

Jack was such a man and renaming San Tomas School to the "Jack C. Fischer" School is a fitting and well deserved tribute to the memory of this fine person.

Sincerely,
Ed and Pat Space
